Latin America and the Caribbean SDG 14 implementation assessment

Background and scope

The Economic Commission for Latin America and the Caribbean (ECLAC) launched a study to follow up on the implementation of Sustainable Development oal (SD) 1! in Latin America and the Caribbean" to identify

Main conclusions

Target SDG 14.C nhance the conser!ation and sustainable use o" oceans and their resources b# implementing international la$ as re"lected in %&CL ' S($hich pro!ides the legal "rame$ork "or the conser!ation and sustainable use o" oceans and their resources(as recalled in paragraph 1)* o" The +uture , e , ant

The L6E indicators provide an overview of how countries coordinate and whether they plan and ma*e decisions on the same basis" principles" and ob‹ectives, The SD 1! survey in Latin America and the Caribbean shows that countries do not actively participate to man#roves and estuarine salt marshes in the re#ion have been impacted with si#nificant losses caused by chronic anthropo#enic stressors such as coastal dev

The pathway to succeed on the implementation of SD 1! can be e5panded and accelerated with all opportunities for countries borderin# the re#ion4s