The Permanent Mission of India to the United Nations, presents its compliments to the Secretary General of the United Nations and with reference to the submission of the Argentine Republic to the Commission on the Limits of the Continental Shelf on April 21 2009, has the honor to express the following:

India recalls the principles and objectives shared by the Antarctic Treaty and the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea, 1982 (Convention), and the importance of harmony between the Antarctic Treaty and the Convention and of the continuing cooperation, security and stability in the Antarctic area.

In accordance with Article IV of the Antarctic Treaty, India does not recognize any State's right or claim to territorial sovereignty in the Antarctic area and consequently, over the seabed and subsoil of the submarine areas adjacent to the continent of Antarctica.

Accordingly India expects that the Commission will not take any action on the part of Argentine submission relating to areas of the seabed and subsoil appurtenant to Antarctica.

India requests that this note may be circulated to the Member States and to the Commission.

The Permanent Mission of India to the United Nations, with the highest appreciation, to renew to the Secretary General of the United Nations the assurances of its highest consideration:

Secretary General of the United Nations,
New York
(Attn: Division for Ocean Affairs and the Law of the Sea)
