

resources in Africa, member States are to continuously prioritize the mapping and assessment of marine resources and to build databases about their resources. The