

International Planned Parenthood Federation, South Asia Region:
Joint Oral Statement by 44 Arab and Asian CSOs to CPD48

~~Confidentiality Declaration and Disclaimer~~

Forty-eight Session

13-17 April 2015

Speaking on behalf of a cross-regional group of civil society advocates representing 44 Asian and Arab countries, I have the following messages and demands:

Sexual and reproductive health and rights are indivisible, inalienable human rights. However, these rights are far from being fully addressed and much work is still needed, as acknowledged in the ~~ICPD beyond 2014 Global Review~~ and particularly the outcomes of the ~~Regional Review~~ and adolescents, particularly young women, in the decision-making processes on policies and programs that affect their lives.

Only through the recognition, promotion and protection of sexual and reproductive health and rights of all we will see persistent inequalities, violence and discrimination addressed; only then we can see the transformational change the Post-2015 development agenda envisions.
