

When 193 Member States of the United Nations adopted Transforming our world: the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development on 25 September 2015, the

We call upon our governments and international organizations, including all United Nations entities, to strengthen the demographic evidence base for the post-2015 development agenda by:

Establishing a global demographic evidence base for the post-2015 development agenda