

It occurs in regular before a high time for international cooperation must be underpinned by the principle of shared responsibility that takes consideration of national and regional realities, and takes into account the dimensions of the crisis and the capacity of the strong

labor needs of destination countries through such programs.

Partnership

the form of skills and countries. Equally important is new and appropriate skills, as destination countries, while financial and social remittances know transfer how transform economies in origin to invest in youth by providing them training to learn encourage synergy in the implementation of the ... at C... impact that it complements the efforts of the ... Process, IGAD and the African Union ... governance.

In closing, we call upon the intern...