2015 Review Conference of the Parties to the Treaty on the Non-Proliferation of Nuclear Weapons

Final Document of the Review Conference including its outcome document. In this context, we welcome the statement made by Austria on behalf of 150 States and would like to refer to working paper 20 issued on behalf of 45 countries

In the past five years, we have also seen a growing debate on, and awareness of, the risks associated with nuclear weapons. This Review Conference should discuss the risks of use of reductions of all forms of employment, during the next cycle. While significant reductions were in the wake of the Gold War, the dismantling process has slowed down in development during the present review cycle. Transparency is an essential element in monitoring the implementation of the 2010 action plan and other commitments, and we should seek to
