

Suggestion and amendments of China

~~ZERO DRAFT OF OUTCOME DOCUMENT FOR 19 SEPTEMBER 2016 HIGH LEVEL MEETING TO ADDRESS LARGE MOVEMENTS OF REFUGEES AND MIGRANTS~~

We,

- 1.8 We are determined that large movements of refugees and migrants should be addressed in a humane, sensitive and compassionate manner. All those affected must have the comprehensive policy support, practical assistance and legal protection which they need; their human rights must be fully respected; and they must be able to live their lives in safety and in dignity.
- 1.9 In adopting a year ago the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development, we all be i bis: We agree to address the root causes by resolving the problem of competing regional instability and uneven development, and stay committed to peaceful solution of conflicts and to help developing countries to achieve ~~promote~~ common development through full implementation of 2030 agenda for SDG

- ii. We agree to foster international relations of win-win cooperation and a community of a shared future for us all, acknowledge a shared global responsibility to manage in a humane and xiii. We take note of welcome ã ÆÄ ' !Ãh™ viii. We will ensure that migration is ~~m~~ ~~addressed~~ ~~mainstreamed~~ ~~mainstreamed~~ in global, regional and national sustainable development and humanitarian policies and programmes.

ix. We will ensure that all migrants, regardless of status and without discrimination, receive the protection, respect and fulfilment of their human rights and fundamental freedoms.

ix.x. Reaffirming the importance of a strong normative framework to support migrants, we call upon States that particular attention to the ethical recruitment of migrants, the reduction of recruitment and other migration related costs, the facilitation of remittance flows and enhanced transfers of skills and knowledge.

xviii.xx. facilitation of and vessels stranded at sea. And we will strengthen support for rescue efforts over land along dangerous or isolated routes.

vi. We recognize the particular vulnerabilities of women and children during the journey from country of migrants and refugees. There is an onus on all of us to correct hostile misrepresentations and to foster a more positive narrative regarding both.

6. Commitments for refugees

- i. Recognizing that conflict and instability are among the factors which give rise to large refugee movements, we will work to prevent or resolve conflict through peaceful means with an emphasis on early warning mechanisms and to promote good governance and the rule of law at the international, regional and national levels. We will do more to prevent crisis situations from deteriorating further and to tackle the root causes (need more clarification) of conflict. We will build on a range of legal obligations and on policy agreements already reached on these issues including in the 2030 Agenda.
- ii. We renew our commitment to uphold humanitarian principles and international humanitarian law. We confirm also our respect for the norms that safeguard civilians in conflict.
- iii. We reaffirm the 1951 Convention relating to the Status of Refugees and the 1967 Protocol thereto as the foundation of the international refugee protection regime, recognize E öAö

Refugee

- x. We recognise that refugee camps should be the exception and, to the extent possible, a temporary measure in response to an emergency. Further, we will actively promote durable solutions, particularly in protracted refugee situations, with a focus on sustainable and timely return where appropriate.
- xi. We recognise that statelessness is a root cause of forced displacement in turn, forced displacement can lead to statelessness. We welcome UNHCR's global campaign to end statelessness within a decade and we encourage States to consider actions they could take to reduce the incidence of statelessness. We encourage those States who have not yet acceded to the two conventions for the prevention and reduction of statelessness to consider doing so.
- xii. Welcoming the extraordinarily generous contribution made to date by countries which host large refugee populations, and the global public good which this constitutes, we will work to increase the support needed for these countries. Building on the outcomes of the London Conference on Supporting Syria and

