The Working Group also had before it the Informal Paper of the Working Group (A/C.6/66/WG.3/1), which contains agreements on the methodology, as well as an enumeration of issues for discussion, commonly referred to as the “Roadmap” by the Working Group. The Working Group also had before it (a) an informal compilation of “Multilateral and other instruments”, and (b) an informal compilation containing “Excerpts from decisions of international tribunals” which may be relevant in relation to the work of the Working Group, both prepared by the Secretariat, pursuant to an understanding reflected in the 2010 report of the Sixth Committee on the item (A/65/474, para. 4). Finally, the Working Group had before it the Chairperson’s Informal Working Paper that had been distributed and discussed in previous sessions of the Working Group. This Informal Working Paper served as a basis for our discussions. Copies of the Informal Working Paper are available in the room and on Unite Connections.

II. Proceedings of the Working Group

4. The Working Group held three meetings, on 13, 14 and 21 October 2016. It conducted its work in the framework of informal consultations. The Working Group was convened against the backdrop of the plenary debate at the 13th, 14th and 15th meetings of the Sixth Committee, held on 11, 13 and 14 October 2016.

5. This summary is for reference purposes only and is not an official record of the proceedings. At its first meeting, on 13 October, in my capacity as Chairperson, I presented an overview of past proceedings, including the discussions that had led to the drawing up and refinement of the Informal Working Paper. As is both customary and important, I stressed that it was understood that the issues raised in the Informal Working Paper were illustrative and without prejudice to future written or oral proposals made by delegations. Furthermore, the document was without prejudice to the positions of delegations; did not reflect consensus among delegations; and was expected to be subject to further deliberation.

6. The Working Group proceeded to discuss the third column of the to>tion.

13. It appears to the Chairperson therefore that choices about the potential outcome of this work must be made by the Working Group and by the Sixth Committee. However, after six years of hard work, I believe that since we have been able to advance our discussions and now have a “Third Column” that captures the stage of said discussions, the group may use the elements of that column as the basis for future work.

Dear Colleagues

The intellectually stimulating nature of the topic, as well as the range of approaches that delegations have taken at the domestic level, suggests that it would be possible to discuss the item ad infinitum. That may well be the wish of delegations, although such an activity would be best left to the plenary of the Sixth Committee, if it were not best left beyond the Sixth Committee altogether. It merges various informal papers developed in the course of the work of the Working Group (2011, 2012, 2013, 2014). It is understood that the issues raised in the present document are illustrative, and are without prejudice to future proposals made by delegations. This document is without prejudice to positions of delegations; does not reflect consensus among delegations; and is expected to be subject to further discussion at a later stage. In developing this document, account has been taken of the sources set out in the "Agreements on methodology" section of the Informal Working Paper of the Working Group (A/C.6/66/WG.3/1); the informal compilations prepared by the Secretariat (A/C.6/66/WG.3/INF.1 and INF.2); compilations of information shared by Governments, included in the reports of the Secretary-General on this topic (A/65/181, A/66/93 and Add.1., A/67/116, A/68/113, A/69/174, A/70/125 and A/71/111); and oral statements made by delegations to the Sixth Committee and in the Working Group on this topic. The present document attempts to attain a best possible balance between precision and flexibility, given the stage of the discussions and it is recognised that the various elements identified are interlinked.
