Thank you, Chair.

I have the honour to speak on behalf of Canada, New Zealand and my own country, Australia.

Let me reiterate our full condemnation of terrorism and violent extremism in all forms and manifestations. Terrorism continues to threaten global peace and security, and many key drivers of radicalisation to violence have deepened through the COVID-19 pandemic. We want to reaffirm our support for the comprehensive approach of the United Nations Global Counter-Terrorism Strategy and the Secretary-

Extremism. We

protect their families and communities. We reiterate our commitment to the Women, Peace and Security agenda, and we organizations and human rights defenders in their efforts to bring and maintain peace and security in their countries. It is critical that we seek to understand and respond to these causes of violence within a whole of society and human rights framework that ensures our efforts are trauma-informed, age and gender appropriate, and responsive to diverse needs and experiences of the individual and community.

The COVID-19 pandemic has taken a great

CANZ partners appreciate the significant progress made on commitments of the Christchurch Call to Action: working with online service providers to support the restructuring of the Global Internet Forum to Counter Terrorism into an independent organisation; and collaborating with Korea and the OECD to develop Voluntary Transparency Reporting Protocols on the prevention, detection and removal of terrorist and violent extremist content online. This preventing exploitation of the Internet for terrorism and violent extremism.
