

the Secretariat's established practice as regards registration of treaties, including memorandums of understanding that constitute treaties, bearing in mind that registration of treaties is indeed an obligation for Member States under the Charter of the United Nations.

Thank you.