hors de combat

The image shows a musical score for a piece titled "hors de combat". The score is written on five staves. The first staff begins with a treble clef and a key signature of one flat (B-flat). The music consists of a series of notes, some with stems pointing up and some with stems pointing down, indicating a specific melodic line. The notes are arranged in a way that suggests a rhythmic pattern, though no explicit time signature is visible. The notation includes various note heads, stems, and beams, typical of a musical score. The overall appearance is that of a handwritten or printed musical manuscript.

Wounded and Sick

ART. 12.

1. The wounded and sick shall be protected and cared for without any adverse distinction of any kind, be it based on race, colour, sex, language, religion, political opinions, or social class.

- a) $\int_{-\infty}^{\infty} \delta(x) \delta(x-1) dx = 0$
- b) $\int_{-\infty}^{\infty} \delta(x) \delta(x-1) \delta(x-2) dx = 0$

1. The Government shall have the right to expropriate, in whole or in part, any real or personal property, including any interest therein, for public use, and to use such property for any purpose that it may determine to be in the public interest.

2. Whenever the Government exercises its right of expropriation, it shall pay to the owner thereof just compensation, to be determined by a court of law in accordance with the principles of justice and equity.

3. The right of expropriation shall not be exercised unless the Government has first offered the owner a fair price for the property, and unless the owner has refused to accept such offer, or unless the Government has failed to purchase the property within a reasonable period of time.

4. The right of expropriation shall not be exercised unless the Government has first published a notice of its intention to expropriate the property, and unless such notice has been published for a period of at least thirty days.

5. The right of expropriation shall not be exercised unless the Government has first obtained the approval of the appropriate authority, and unless such approval has been granted by a majority of the members of such authority.

6. The right of expropriation shall not be exercised unless the Government has first obtained the approval of the appropriate authority, and unless such approval has been granted by a majority of the members of such authority.

ART. 18.

1. The Government shall have the right to expropriate, in whole or in part, any real or personal property, including any interest therein, for public use, and to use such property for any purpose that it may determine to be in the public interest.
