Cross-border or mul t-country projects submit only one report per project. For annual repor t ng cycle, those projects that are nearing their end date can choose whether to submit an annual report (covering only the latest year) or a f nal report (covering the en t re dura t on of the project, and is typically informed by the f ndings from the independent project evalua t on), as long as one of these reports is submi t ed by 15 November deadline.

The bi-annual narra t ve progress report includes a self-assessment of the project based on the level of implementa t on. The projects undertake an assessment of progress against project workplan and results framework to determine whether the project is Addi t onally, projects that were implemented for a year or longer should also iden t fy whether the project is providing evidence of peacebuilding results.

During the review process at PBF in New York, PBF Programme O f cers review the performance ra t ng

Given this high-risk appetite, embracing significant contextual and programmatic risks, it is to be expected that some proportion of the portolio would be of-

Secretary-General's report on PBF. Ratings from all annual project reports (submitted in November) that are verified by PBF Programme Officers comprise the data for the SG Report table.

To calculate the share of on-track projects, the following formula is used:

To calculate the share of projects that generated evidence of peacebuilding results, the following formula is used:

The data from the Fund-wide calculations according to the aforementioned formulas is then