Statement by Mr. Yun Yong Il,

Delegation of the Democratic People's Republic of Korea

At the 22nd Session of the Committee on Information

Mr. Chairman,

At the outset, my delegation would like to appreciate your sincere efforts for ensuring the success of the 57th Session of the Committee on Information. My delegation's appreciation also goes to Mr. Under Secretary General for Communication and Public Information for his detailed briefing on the current public information activities of the United Nations

My delegation, while appreciating itself with the statement delivered by the distinguished representative of the Republic of Korea on behalf of the Group, would like to highlight following points to which it attaches particular importance.

Despite the international efforts to use the information and communication technology as a technical and material basis for common prosperity of the mankind countries are ever more serious in the information and communication fields.

What cannot be overlooked furthermore is that certain countries do not hesitate in continuing the abuse of the latest technology and means of information and

Today the US and its followers with specialized methods and means of create an impression that emergency is imminent in the country image.

This black propaganda campaign by describing the system of the DPRK as is a sinister trick of the present US internal situation that it can merely take any serious approach toward the DPRK proposed negotiations for the conclusion of a peace treaty and the denuclearization of the Korean Peninsula.

Today such kind of black propaganda is being widely conducted against not only the and non-interference in others' internal affairs. Without putting an end to such acts, never will be justice and cooperation in the international relations, and the desire and aspiration of a peaceful and prosperous world will remain unachievable.

Therefore international information activities should be directed to promoting and relations. In any case, the information activities for interfering in others' internal affairs

In this regard, my delegation is of the view that the Committee on Information should continue to hold its sessions in the form of establishing a new and fair non-interference in others' internal affairs, impartiality and objectivity.

The establishment of a new and fair international information and communication order is a pressing requirement of the developing countries which represent an overwhelming majority of the UN membership. It is also called for in several NAM Ministerial Meetings on Information and is fully consistent with the mandate given to this committee.

And my delegation is fully committed to the specific related goals aimed at improving the information and communication infrastructure of the developing countries, promoting the transfer of technology and training of experts.

Mr. Chairman,

In conclusion, my delegation would like to take this opportunity to reiterate that the DDCs will continue to strive for the development of information and communication infrastructure and give full play to the role of national information while actively cooperating with other countries in the efforts to establish a new and fair international

I thank you, Mr. Chairman.
