

Madam President,

As a result of the political changes, in the last 15 years our country has established a legal and institutional system for migration-related issues compliant with the European standards. This process is still in progress pursuant the evolving changes in the migration and asylum policy of the European Union.

Poland has not experienced a mass population influx, however recognizing the importance of the migration at the global level, we actively participate in an international discussion on the development benefits resulting from this phenomenon for the receiving
