The CSW is an important avenue for giving the past and the future, and it will delineate the priority themes of the coming three years and its related work. China will actively participate in the CSW and work with other countries to promote the work of the CSW, to strengthen the cooperation and exchange between the CSW and the Commission on the Status of Women, and to promote the work of the CSW in the area of the international community. China will also actively participate in the CSW and work with other countries to promote the work of the CSW, to strengthen the cooperation and exchange between the CSW and the Commission on the Status of Women, and to promote the work of the CSW in the area of the international community.

SO as to continue to work actively and progressively for women's development, China also supports the CSW in providing guidance to the operational activities of the Executive Board of UN Women and engaging in further international cooperation.

Specifically, the international community should continue to be prompted to work vigorously to eliminate violence against women. It is of great significance that the current CSW will set its priority theme "Elimination and prevention of all forms of violence against women and girls". There has been some progress in the area of eliminating violence against women, but there are still many challenges. Violence against women not only violates women's rights, but also undermines family harmony and hinders social progress. A society that tolerates violence against women is a backward society. China will on all occasions work to promote gender equality and women's development, and will actively participate in the CSW, to strengthen the cooperation and exchange between the CSW and the Commission on the Status of Women, and to promote the work of the CSW in the area of the international community. China will also actively participate in the CSW and work with other countries to promote the work of the CSW, to strengthen the cooperation and exchange between the CSW and the Commission on the Status of Women, and to promote the work of the CSW in the area of the international community.
