Thank you, Mr. President,

The Delegation of the Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela is pleased to participate in the 10th anniversary of the adoption of the Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination Against Women (CEDAW).

The Convention is a landmark document in the history of international law, and its ratification by 118 States represents a significant step towards the realization of the rights of women and the promotion of gender equality.

The Convention is a cornerstone of the international human rights system, and its implementation is essential for the achievement of sustainable development and the well-being of all people.

The Convention is a testament to the power of international cooperation and the commitment of States to the promotion of human rights and the dignity of all people.

The Convention is a source of inspiration and guidance for all people who seek to build a more just and equitable world.

The Convention is a symbol of hope and a call to action for all people to work together to create a better future for all.
