

National implementation of the Platform for Action of the Fourth World Conference on Women, held in Beijing in 1995

Introduction

Political objective and purposes of the National Women's Office

The Panamanian State is committed to following up the goals established in the 1995 Beijing Platform for Action through the National Women's Office (DINAMU) of the Ministry of Children, Women, the Family and Youth. As an executing agency, DINAMU coordinates with governmental, non-governmental and civil society mechanisms, which include international organizations in order to "crystallize" the implementation of the Beijing Platform for Action. To follow up the 1995 Beijing Platform for Action, DINAMU-United Nations Development Programme (UNDP) have developed a

The aims of this follow-up project are:

to identify strategic areas of opportunity, in conjunction with both sectoral organisations for the advancement of rural organisations of civil society.

so as to facilitate follow-up and coordination mechanisms that make optimum use of the available resources and activate various types of follow-up by providing assistance to actors in the implementation of the sectoral programmes incorporated, and to ensure the institutional strengthening of recently created sectoral and national mechanisms which do not have sufficiently human or material resources to fulfil all their responsibilities.

It also seeks to establish an indicative timeline for the proposals contained in the 1995 Beijing Platform for Action and activities under the Women and Development Action Plan 1994-2000, to provide information on the status and situation of the proposals and identify likely implementation constraints.

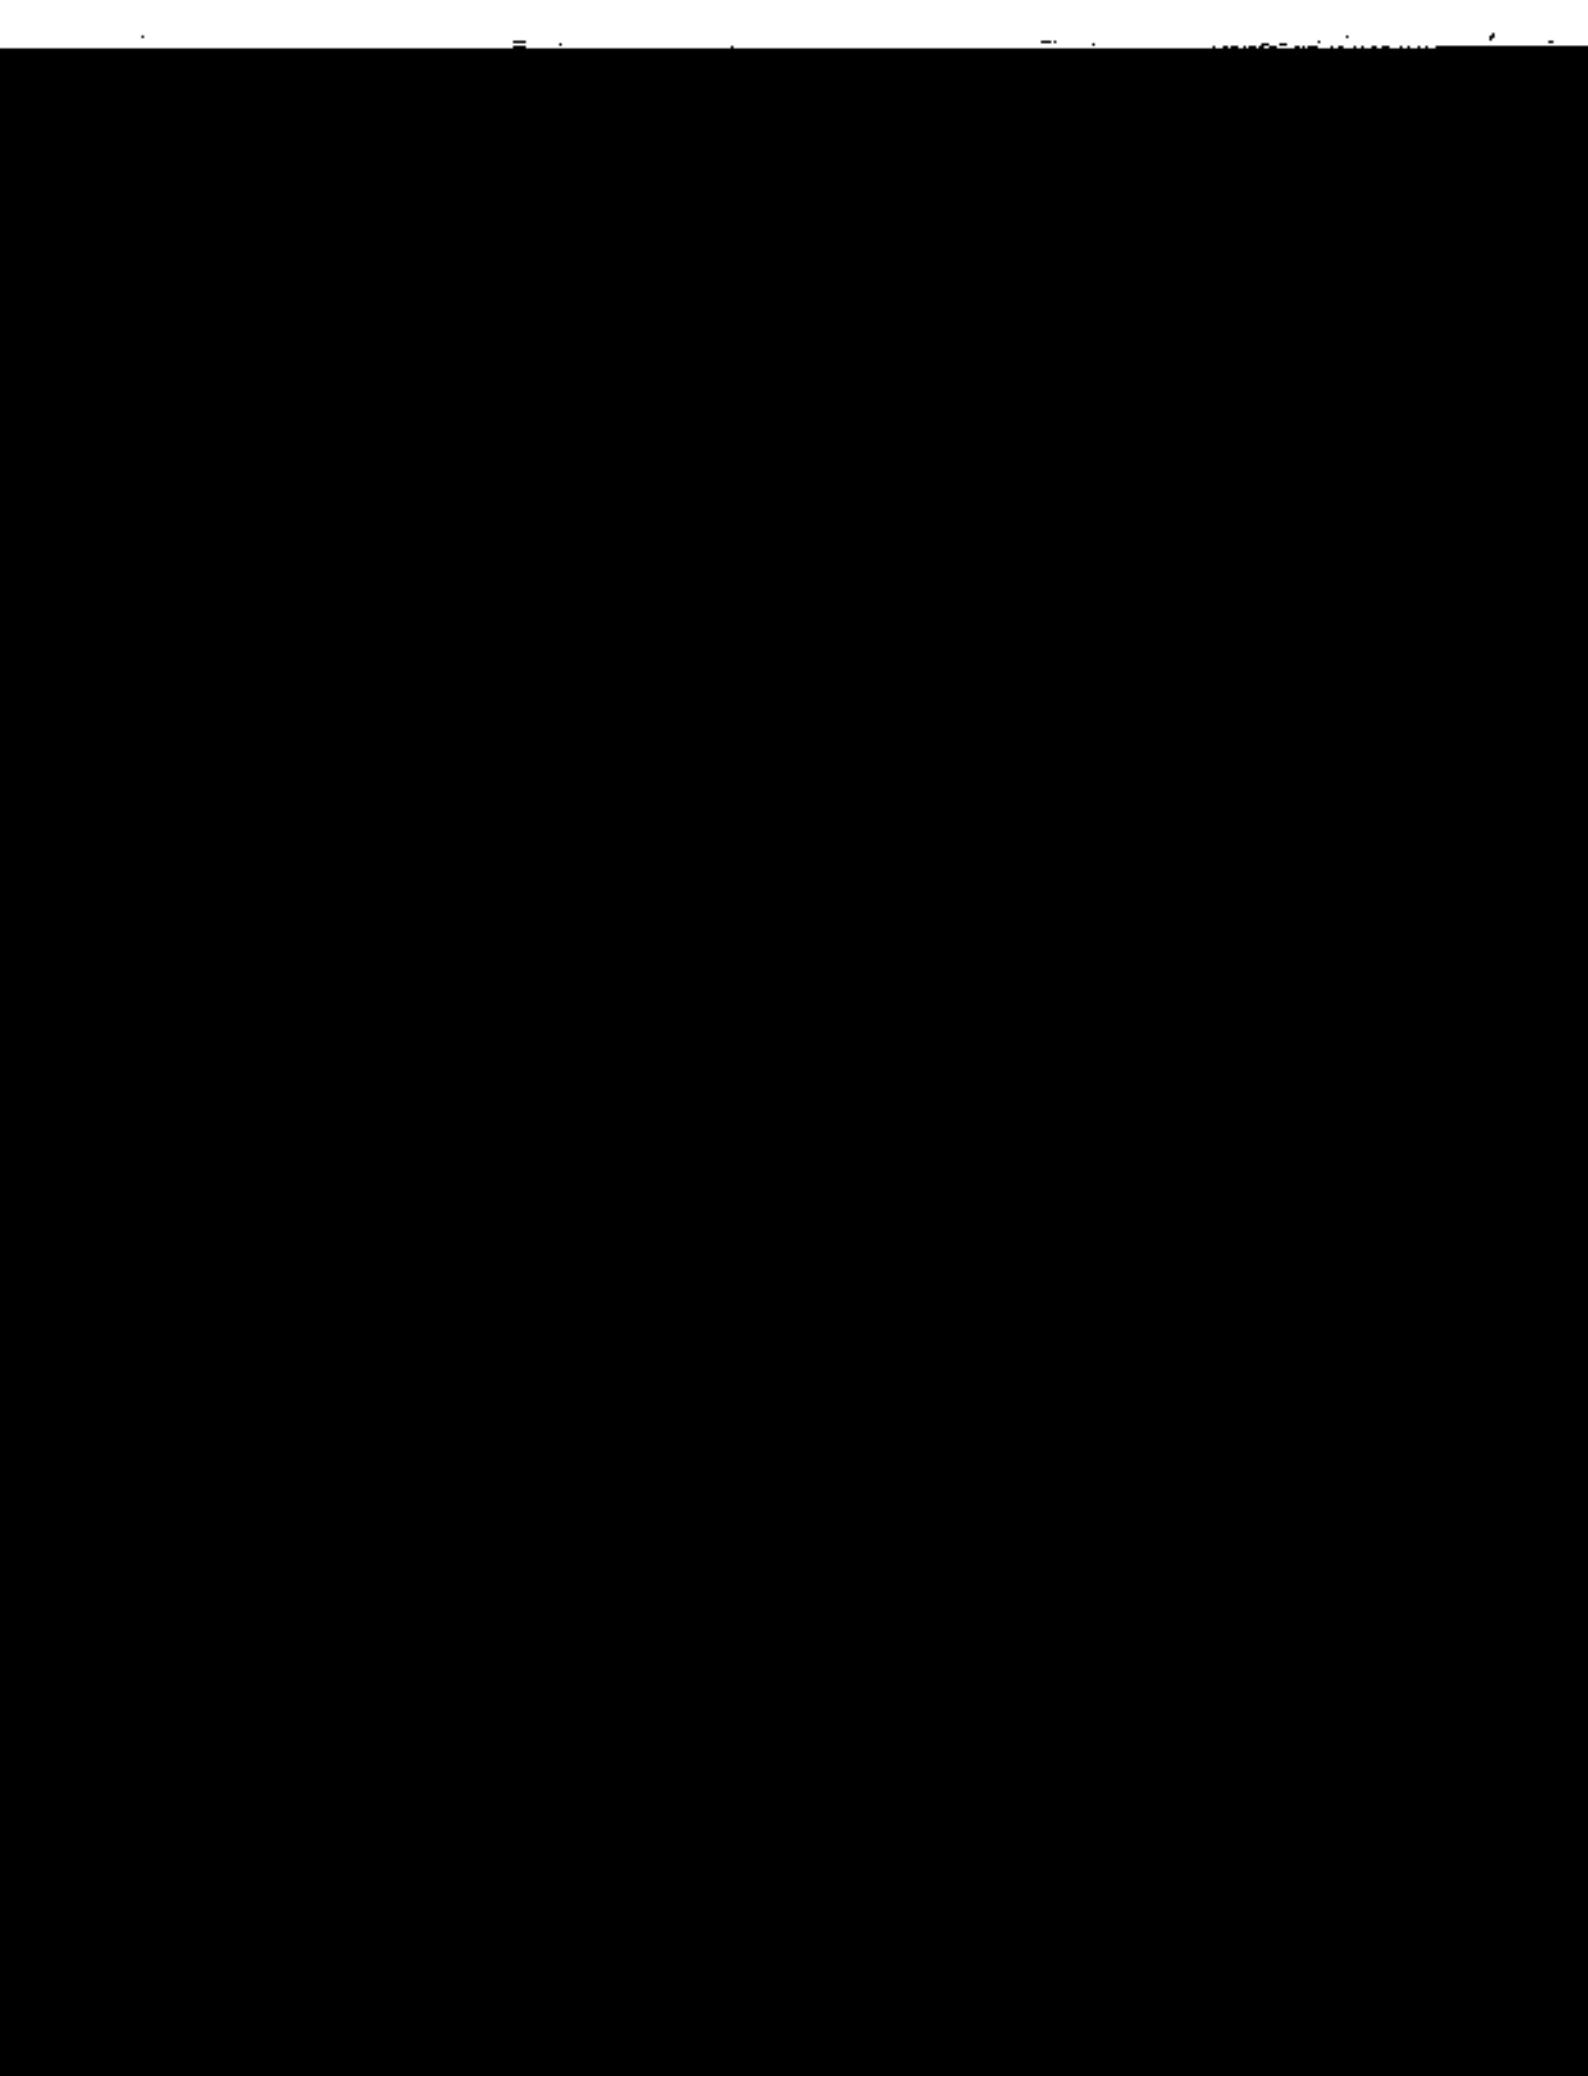

Evaluation, 2001 and results

the platform for the preparation of the Beijing World Conference on Women, held in Beijing in 1995. The Conference will be the largest international gathering of women ever held. It will be preceded by a series of events - both national and international - which will focus on the implementation of the Beijing Declaration and Platform of Action, and on the preparation of the International Conference on Population and Development, to be held in Cairo in September 1994.

the women's movement obtained the adoption of Law 27 on the characterization of crimes of violence, its enforcement by the judicial authorities is limited. The law constitutes a major stride, however, which has increased the number of

of the Platform for the UNIFEM... [REDACTED]

In connection with the critical areas of concern mentioned above, the National Women's Office has developed an action plan to implement the National Mechanisms for the elimination of violence against women and support for the preparation of Panamá's periodic report for the Committee on the Elimination of various parts of the country, the province of Veraguas for the rural area and three, especially the Metropolitan Area, (see Methodological annex).

design implemented initially. In this context, the National Women's Office has been in close contact with the National Commission for the Promotion and Consolidation of Entities such as, inter alia, the National Development Forum; the Coordinating Office of organizations for the Advancement of Women (CODIM); the Women and Development Action Plan and meetings of the National Commission for the Promotion of Constitutional Order, which designs programmes for the advancement of women in governmental organizations and international agencies were also involved.

The information provided in this initial phase constituted an input for the preparation of the evaluation instrument, consisting of a questionnaire (see Annex A) based on the strategic objectives and actions established in the Platform, each critical area of concern addressed individually and collectively.

In order to achieve the desired objectives and results, fundamental criteria, quantitative and qualitative follow-up indicators and a follow-up and evaluation model that is, inasmuch as possible, simple and feasible for the administrator are being recommended to the National Women's Office through the evaluation.

IMPLEMENTATION OF THE BEIJING PLATFORM FOR ACTION 1995

The aim of the following questionnaire is to obtain:

- Your assessment of the implementation in Panama of the Platform for Action of the Fourth World Conference on Women, held in Beijing in 1995.
- Your comments, which will contribute to the design of an instrument to facilitate the follow-up of the implementation of the Platform by national, governmental and non-governmental organizations dedicated to the advancement of Panamanian women and the attainment of equality.

The strategic objectives of each of the 12 critical areas of the Platform are given below, followed by questions and/or statements relating to the following critical areas. Please indicate the number next to each question or statement:

1. Very satisfactory

2. Satisfactory

3. Insufficient

4. Unsatisfactory

1. Very satisfactory	2. Satisfactory	3. Insufficient	4. Unsatisfactory
1. Very satisfactory	2. Satisfactory	3. Insufficient	4. Unsatisfactory

Please provide the following general information below:

1. Organization of which you are a member _____

2. Your position _____ Number of years you have been _____

3. Sex:

Male _____ Female _____

4. Education:

Elementary school _____ Secondary school _____ University degree _____ Postgraduate _____

5. Occupation:

6. How many years have you been involved in the Platform for Action in Panama?

7. Please rank the appropriateness of the following statements concerning some of the critical areas of concern of the Platform for Action in Panama.

8. What are the main strengths of the Platform for Action in Panama as it strengthens the women's movement in Panama?

9. What are the main weaknesses of the Platform for Action in Panama as it strengthens the women's movement in Panama?

10. What are the main challenges facing the Platform for Action in Panama as it strengthens the women's movement in Panama?

11. What are the main lessons learned by the Platform for Action in Panama as it strengthens the women's movement in Panama?

12. What are the main recommendations you would make to the Platform for Action in Panama as it strengthens the women's movement in Panama?

13. What are the main lessons learned by the Platform for Action in Panama as it strengthens the women's movement in Panama?

14. What are the main challenges facing the Platform for Action in Panama as it strengthens the women's movement in Panama?

15. What are the main lessons learned by the Platform for Action in Panama as it strengthens the women's movement in Panama?

16. What are the main challenges facing the Platform for Action in Panama as it strengthens the women's movement in Panama?

17. What are the main lessons learned by the Platform for Action in Panama as it strengthens the women's movement in Panama?

18. What are the main challenges facing the Platform for Action in Panama as it strengthens the women's movement in Panama?

19. What are the main lessons learned by the Platform for Action in Panama as it strengthens the women's movement in Panama?

20. What are the main challenges facing the Platform for Action in Panama as it strengthens the women's movement in Panama?

21. What are the main lessons learned by the Platform for Action in Panama as it strengthens the women's movement in Panama?

22. What are the main challenges facing the Platform for Action in Panama as it strengthens the women's movement in Panama?

23. What are the main lessons learned by the Platform for Action in Panama as it strengthens the women's movement in Panama?

_____ Reallocation of public spending to increase economic opportunities for the poorest women.

_____ Specific economic, social and agricultural policies in support of female-headed households.

_____ Mainstreaming of the gender perspective in the design and implementation of spending programmes.

_____ Policies for the promotion of equal access by women to productive resources.

_____ Basic family shopping basket accessible to female heads of households.

_____ Policies for the promotion of the equitable distribution of food in the _____ Administrative laws and practices to guarantee women's equal rights and their access to economic resources.

of girl children and numbers who remain in school by participate.

Increase in enrolment offering incentives and so climate free of impediments to school attendance by mothers.

Promotion of a school pregnant teenagers and young literacy.

Elimination of female

access to vocational training, science and technology

Increase in women's and continuing education training and retraining of women with a view to ties.

Policies on education
improving their job opport

materials and positive action to guarantee women ral and scientific sectors.

Lesson plans, teaching greater access to the tech ational and technical training for girl children; and e, mathematics, engineering, high technology and Diversification of women in the fields of sci management...

Promotion of women's role in research, extension and educational programmes in the food and agricultural sector.

Programme

Establishment of non-discriminatory education and training systems:

Non-sexist lesson plans and textbooks

Non-sexist language in teacher-student interaction

Introducing gender perspective

Reformulating pedagogical theory and practice of the curriculum in favour of a towards more urban poor girl children.

Action and promotion of training in leadership and conflict-through peaceful means at all levels. Concrete action to increase the percentage of female teachers levels.

Human rights education programmes

Incorporation of sex and reproductive health education in

Gender-sensitive recreational and sports facilities,

Allocation of resources for educational reform.

Indicators:

(1) Please rate the indicators on a scale of 1 to 4 (see s

(2) Please review and change the indicators and/or propose new ones.

_____ School enrolment of rural, indigenous and upwardly mobile urban poor girl children.

_____ Participation of adolescent women in vocational school at the secondary level.

Methodological strategies:

The Platform for Action is an instrument which, by establishing guidelines for action for the advancement of the status of women, helps the Government and the women's movement to undertake follow-up and evaluation. Thus, the Platform is a gauge of the local plans of action and programmes being implemented.

Since women's experience shows that neither protective nor restrictive legislation is sufficient to transform discriminatory practices into realities other than we must organize in order to disseminate and ensure the

Indicators

The questionnaire was further improved by the inclusion of a number of indicators taken from the documents consulted. It was completed individually and in focus groups.

Conceptually, a monitoring and evaluation plan is advisable, since it results in greater progress and overall achievement of the desired objectives.

of the answers to the following

The indicators were elaborated on the basis of the following questions:

What are the objectives of your programme?

Who are the target groups and the direct beneficiaries of the programme; what are their needs and expectations?

What changes are expected as a result of the programme?

To what extent and how effectively are the information on the interviewees' general perception of the problems and situations addressed by the Platform. The second part consists of questions elaborated on the basis of strategic actions identified in the Platform under each critical area of concern with the aim of quantifying the relevance and impact of the Platform's components. The questionnaire includes indicators which were evaluated by the interviewees and can be changed, reformulated or replaced by new indicators.

Evaluation report

In the evaluation report, relevance, success and impact were discussed in terms of the answers to the following questions:

(a) Which factors had a positive impact on the implementation of the Platform's components? (positive factors in the programme and which ones had a negative impact)

(b) Reasons and impact for target groups and specific institutions and individuals involved.

Thus it must be taken into account that the recommendations contained in the report constitute a proposal for specific action to be undertaken by the concerned parties. The names and addresses of the parties responsible for the action should be indicated.